Subject: stock sterile products

Steroids, sulfan blue, etc…..we can't run into a situation where we ever run out of any of these products, as far as having a fully tested product in house that may just need to be filled in a certain vial or syringe. We are now shipping basic,stock products without full sterility data….this can't happen because I have no way of explaining to a client that we shipped before we had full sterility data . Let's get that scheduler going on ALL stock product before the end of this week. If you need any data then ask…….
